

BRIGHT FUTURE IS PREDICTED FOR MEDICAL SCHOOL

Consolidation With University and Large Endowment Part of Plan.

CITY MUST PROVIDE GREAT HOSPITAL

Formal Opening of Consolidated Medical Colleges Occasion for Prophecies of Future Growth. Governor and Mayor, With Many Citizens, Take Part.

In the presence of a great concourse of public-minded men and women, the new Medical College of Virginia, the product of the consolidation of the University College of Medicine and the old Medical College of Virginia, was formally opened last night and dedicated to medical education in the South. Fully 500 persons, seated in the auditorium of the John Marshall High School, applauded the prophecies of a great future before the new institution, and expressed their approval of the vision of the speakers.

The prediction of the speedy consolidation of the Medical College of Virginia and the medical department of the University of Virginia was unanimously made, and received with thunderous applause by the audience. One medical college in Virginia was declared to be the vision of the future, a single institution great enough to rank with the oldest and most powerful of the medical schools of the world. The speakers joined in lauding the natural advantages of Richmond as the site for such an institution, and spoke with an assurance that presages early results.

Need Great Municipal Hospital.
To realize our vision of the future growth of this city, said Dr. George Ben Johnston, head of the surgical department, "there is necessary a great municipal hospital as an adjunct of the teaching course. The future of the city center, with the Common Council and Board of Aldermen of the city of Richmond, I trust they may see the great responsibility, and very shortly appropriate the money required to erect such a hospital as is now needed."

For two hours representatives of the city government, the State government, the clergy, the medical college, the law and the board of visitors came upon the platform and expressed their prophetic views of the future opening up before this college, which draws from a territory containing 7,000,000 people. Then came Dr. George Ben Johnston, designated to give forth in diplomatic terms the needs and plans of the college, to deliver the last words of the evening. He was received with a great demonstration by students and audience and was forced to stand several minutes before quiet was restored.

Outlines Splendid Future.
In authoritative language, Dr. Johnston foretold the following great steps in the future growth of the Medical College of Virginia.

The speedy merger of the Medical College of Virginia and the medical department of the University of Virginia. No details of this proposed union were given or even hinted at.

A great endowment, large enough to make the college independent and financially able to command the best of medical knowledge for its faculty. This prediction was taken to mean that a gift such as has recently been offered upon the medical department of Vanderbilt University is scheduled to come to Richmond.

The building of a large municipal hospital in close proximity to the buildings of the medical college, where the students may learn and at the same time give freely of their help to the indigent sick.

Great laboratories owned by the City Health Board and the State Health Board, opened for the use of the students, under the direction of proper authority.

The gathering of nurses from all hospitals in the city into one hall for lectures by the faculty of the college. The eventual result of this is the receiving of degrees from the various private hospitals of the city, the graduating nurses will be given degrees from the college.

The supplying of a hospital berth for every man in the charitable class of the college. Dr. Johnston said there are ample places to be had when the grade of the school is raised to the height demanded by the new hospital.

An alliance of the private hospitals in this city with the Medical College of Virginia in such a way as to insure close co-operation between them all.

Great Audience Packed Hall.
On last Sunday morning, in the Second Presbyterian Church, the religious exercises incident to the dedication of the college were held. Hardly a seat was vacant in the church, and a great audience listened to the sermon by the Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary. The exercises last night in the John Marshall High School were arranged to supplement the religious exercises and to give an opportunity for the people of Richmond to join with the medical fraternity of the city in pledging support and backing to the new college.

The large assembly room of the high school was crowded before the hour of opening. The uniformed nurses of the Memorial Hospital occupied seats in the center of the hall, students of the college were scattered through the back and in the wings, while students of Richmond College and other educational institutions were spread freely on the main floor of the auditorium. The uniformed nurses of the Memorial Hospital occupied seats in the center of the hall, students of the college were scattered through the back and in the wings, while students of Richmond College and other educational institutions were spread freely on the main floor of the auditorium.

Governor Mann, bringing the greetings of the State of Virginia, made this one tribute to the men responsible

WOMEN TO ATTEND

Will Take Active Part in Suffrage Association Convention.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—Among the women who will take an active part in the annual convention of the National Woman's Suffrage Association, which will meet in Washington the week of December 1, will be Mrs. McCormick, of Chicago; Mrs. Christian, of Washington; Mrs. Lawrence, of Philadelphia; Mrs. O. H. Belmont, of New York; and Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York. These women will come from all parts of the United States, and Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, president of the suffrage association, will preside at the meeting.

Among the speakers at the management meeting on Sunday, November 30, will be the presidents of the State associations, Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York, and Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York.

The evening of December 1 will be devoted to a celebration of winning the vote in Illinois. The speakers at this meeting will be Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York, and Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York.

Among the speakers at the management meeting on Sunday, November 30, will be the presidents of the State associations, Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York, and Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York.

THIRTY DUELS THREATENED

Leading Swordsmen of France Willing to Fight to the Death.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Paris, October 30.—Thirty duels are threatened as the result of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria's refusal to accept the Bulgarian army during the Balkan War.

The evening of December 1 will be devoted to a celebration of winning the vote in Illinois. The speakers at this meeting will be Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York, and Mrs. J. H. H. Belmont, of New York.

IN STATE OF COLLAPSE

Mrs. Rand Shows Effects of Treatment.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
London, October 30.—Mrs. Lucille Rand is lying in a state of collapse at the house of a friend in London as a result of her unfortunate experiences in Dublin. Her condition is such that she is unable to move.

LOADED WITH PLASTER ROCK

Long-Awaited Mystery Vessel Not Laden With Silks and Satins.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—The long-awaited mystery vessel, Emma P. Ansell, which was expected to be laden with silks and satins, is reported to be loaded with plaster rock.

BOLL WEEVIL IS CONQUERED

Reveries of Destructive Pest Successfully Combated by Science.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—The ravages of the Mexican boll weevil, which has caused losses of millions of dollars to cotton growers in the United States, have been successfully combated by the use of a new method of extermination.

MONEY FOR EDUCATION

Methodist Bishops Discuss Status of Church Institutions.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
St. Louis, October 30.—Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met here today for their annual conference. The subject of educational institutions of the church was discussed.

KING GEORGE'S WILL FILED

Paper Disposes of Large Danish Estates of Late Monarch.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Copenhagen, October 30.—The will of King George of Greece, disposing of his large Danish estates, was opened today by the executor, the Greek consul, General Hennings and King Christian's secretary, Herr Krieger. The castle of Copenhagen has been the residence of King George since he fled from Greece, who will live in Denmark.

Another summer residence is given by the king to Prince Andrew, King George's main palace, which is bequeathed to his four royal palaces. This building is occupied by the Swedish king, and contains some famous Gobelin tapestries.

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT
Dry Farming Congress Urges Study of Soil Conservation.

Tulsa, Okla., October 30.—The International Dry Farming Congress, in session here, adopted resolutions today urging the appointment of a national agricultural research commission and the appropriation of $250,000 by the United States to provide funds for the proposed commission. The resolutions proposed that the commission be composed of nine members and a resident secretary, who would report within two years the exact status of agricultural development in the United States. Wichita, Kan., was selected to-day as the 1914 meeting place. Prescott, Ariz., and San Francisco, Cal., and Regina, Canada, were the other contestants. The congress will adjourn to-morrow.

NOTE OF WARNING SOUNDED BY HILL AND VANDERLIP

Railroad Man and Banker Caution Business Interests.

SINGLE BANK IDEA AGAIN INDORSED

Defect of Glass Bill Is Pointed Out as Starting the Country on an Issue of Fiat Currency. Nation Is Declared to Be "Water-Logged" With Bonds.

Chicago, Ill., October 30.—James J. Hill and Frank A. Vanderlip, speakers to-night at the banquet that closed the convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America, each sounded a note of warning to the business interests of the country.

Mr. Hill, whose subject was "Railroad Financing of the Future," warned that "the country is water-logged with bonds."

"Confidence cannot be restored," he said, "until the name 'bond' has been taken out of the country's vocabulary."

Single Central Bank.

Mr. Vanderlip urged, instead of regional banks, a single central bank, controlled by the people and under government supervision. He said that the danger of regional banks was that they would be controlled by local interests and would not be able to handle the needs of the entire country.

World Shock Country.

If the true story of all municipal indebtedness is as concealed behind various temporary measures, so as to maintain an ostensible credit and push out the annual crop of new or re-bonded bonds, it would be a shock to the country, said Mr. Hill. "It would shock the country and give pause even to the advocates of unlimited expenditure for public purposes."

MONEY FOR EDUCATION

Methodist Bishops Discuss Status of Church Institutions.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
St. Louis, October 30.—Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, met here today for their annual conference. The subject of educational institutions of the church was discussed.

KING GEORGE'S WILL FILED

Paper Disposes of Large Danish Estates of Late Monarch.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Copenhagen, October 30.—The will of King George of Greece, disposing of his large Danish estates, was opened today by the executor, the Greek consul, General Hennings and King Christian's secretary, Herr Krieger. The castle of Copenhagen has been the residence of King George since he fled from Greece, who will live in Denmark.

AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT

Dry Farming Congress Urges Study of Soil Conservation.
Tulsa, Okla., October 30.—The International Dry Farming Congress, in session here, adopted resolutions today urging the appointment of a national agricultural research commission and the appropriation of $250,000 by the United States to provide funds for the proposed commission. The resolutions proposed that the commission be composed of nine members and a resident secretary, who would report within two years the exact status of agricultural development in the United States. Wichita, Kan., was selected to-day as the 1914 meeting place. Prescott, Ariz., and San Francisco, Cal., and Regina, Canada, were the other contestants. The congress will adjourn to-morrow.

CO-OPERATION
The Woman's Page of The Times-Dispatch is interesting the women of Richmond even before it makes its appearance.

They are looking forward to Monday, unveiling day, in order to see what features Martha Westover has selected.

Many, however, are not waiting for Monday, but are writing daily to Miss Westover, giving her excellent ideas and making valuable suggestions.

It is just that co-operation that promises to make the page "Of Interest to Every Woman," for that's the line across the top.

Martha Westover asks the aid of every woman.

She invites criticism and appreciates suggestions.

ACTION IN COURT TO PUT SULZER AND VANDERLIP BACK IN POWER

Petition Alleges Control of Government Has Passed From People.

SUIT BROUGHT BY NEW YORK PRINTER

Seeks to Enjoin Glynn From Exercising Gubernatorial Functions and Charges Small Group of Citizens With Dominating State for Their Sole Use and Benefit.

New York, October 30.—William Sulzer's conviction by the high court of impeachment and his removal from office as Governor of New York was thrown into the Federal courts for review to-day by William H. Moore, a printer.

In a remarkable petition Moore alleges that the control of the State government has passed from the people to a small group of citizens and consequently New York is no longer enjoying a republican form of government as guaranteed by the Federal Constitution.

Moore seeks to have the court enjoin Mark J. Glynn, Attorney General, from exercising gubernatorial functions; pray for the restoration of office to Sulzer; attacks the Assembly for arrogating to itself power to convene in extraordinary session and pass articles of impeachment and petitions for an audit of State books.

Moore Disclaims Any Motive for the Action.

Moore disclaimed any motive for the action other than that he was inspired by the fact that he was a citizen and a taxpayer. The petition charges a certain group of men, consisting partly of the defendants and partly of men unnamed, with having obtained control of the State, its many officers and vast funds for their sole use and benefit.

Moore Denies That He Has Any Politics Behind His Suit.

Moore denies that he has any politics behind his suit. He said he and his attorney, John Leary, had conceived the idea of bringing the suit in the Federal court, he said, "I expect to appeal to the Supreme Court."

Moore Confirmed Sulzer's Statement That He Knew Nothing about the Suit Before It Was Filed.

Moore confirmed Sulzer's statement that he knew nothing about the suit before it was filed. He said he had been active in Democratic politics and in the Typographical Union, but he was not a candidate for appointment by Governor Sulzer as State Labor Commissioner. Publishers of the New York World said that although Moore was one of its employees, the newspaper was in no way connected with the suit.

Leary Said to-Think That He Would Apply Next Week for a Preliminary Injunction in the Case Returnable in a Week or Two.

Leary said to-Think that he would apply next week for a preliminary injunction in the case returnable in a week or two. He said he was not a candidate for appointment by Governor Sulzer as State Labor Commissioner. Publishers of the New York World said that although Moore was one of its employees, the newspaper was in no way connected with the suit.

Moore Confirmed Sulzer's Statement That He Knew Nothing about the Suit Before It Was Filed.

Moore confirmed Sulzer's statement that he knew nothing about the suit before it was filed. He said he had been active in Democratic politics and in the Typographical Union, but he was not a candidate for appointment by Governor Sulzer as State Labor Commissioner. Publishers of the New York World said that although Moore was one of its employees, the newspaper was in no way connected with the suit.

CO-OPERATION
The Woman's Page of The Times-Dispatch is interesting the women of Richmond even before it makes its appearance.

They are looking forward to Monday, unveiling day, in order to see what features Martha Westover has selected.

Many, however, are not waiting for Monday, but are writing daily to Miss Westover, giving her excellent ideas and making valuable suggestions.

It is just that co-operation that promises to make the page "Of Interest to Every Woman," for that's the line across the top.

Martha Westover asks the aid of every woman.

She invites criticism and appreciates suggestions.

FUSION LEADERS JOIN IN ATTACK ON TAMMANY HALL

Denounced for Power to Make and Unmake a Governor.

HENNESSY MAKES FURTHER CHARGES

Continues Spirited Campaign Against Murphy, Who Grants Longest Interview of His Career. "Little Black Book" to Be Used by Whittman in Investigation.

New York, October 30.—Enthusiasm for the Fusion municipal ticket, headed by John Purroy Mitchell, reached its height to-night. At a big mass-meeting in Madison Square Garden, the audience heard the majority candidate himself, Mayor Seth Low, who once led a Fusion cause to victory. Oscar S. Straus, former ambassador to Turkey, and others attacked Tammany Hall, Edward E. McCall, its majority candidate, and Charles F. Murphy, its leader.

Mr. Straus aroused the crowd to a demonstration when he denounced Tammany for what he declared was its recently displayed power to conduct its own recall and make and unmake a Governor.

Seth Low, as chairman, also caught the crowd when he answered his own question: "How can Tammany be destroyed?" he replied, "putting it on a hunger strike and not trying to forcibly feed it."

Malone Attacks Fitzgerald.

Dudley Field Malone, Third Assistant Secretary of State, and son-in-law of President Wilson, spoke at the New York, to-night spoke at the big Fusion meeting in Madison Square Garden in the interest of John Purroy Mitchell, Mayor-elect.

Moore Disclaims Any Motive for the Action.

Moore disclaimed any motive for the action other than that he was inspired by the fact that he was a citizen and a taxpayer. The petition charges a certain group of men, consisting partly of the defendants and partly of men unnamed, with having obtained control of the State, its many officers and vast funds for their sole use and benefit.

Moore Denies That He Has Any Politics Behind His Suit.

Moore denies that he has any politics behind his suit. He said he and his attorney, John Leary, had conceived the idea of bringing the suit in the Federal court, he said, "I expect to appeal to the Supreme Court."

Moore Confirmed Sulzer's Statement That He Knew Nothing about the Suit Before It Was Filed.

Moore confirmed Sulzer's statement that he knew nothing about the suit before it was filed. He said he had been active in Democratic politics and in the Typographical Union, but he was not a candidate for appointment by Governor Sulzer as State Labor Commissioner. Publishers of the New York World said that although Moore was one of its employees, the newspaper was in no way connected with the suit.

Leary Said to-Think That He Would Apply Next Week for a Preliminary Injunction in the Case Returnable in a Week or Two.

Leary said to-Think that he would apply next week for a preliminary injunction in the case returnable in a week or two. He said he was not a candidate for appointment by Governor Sulzer as State Labor Commissioner. Publishers of the New York World said that although Moore was one of its employees, the newspaper was in no way connected with the suit.

CO-OPERATION
The Woman's Page of The Times-Dispatch is interesting the women of Richmond even before it makes its appearance.

They are looking forward to Monday, unveiling day, in order to see what features Martha Westover has selected.

Many, however, are not waiting for Monday, but are writing daily to Miss Westover, giving her excellent ideas and making valuable suggestions.

It is just that co-operation that promises to make the page "Of Interest to Every Woman," for that's the line across the top.

Martha Westover asks the aid of every woman.

She invites criticism and appreciates suggestions.

TO IMPROVE MAIL SERVICE

Department Will Operate Number of Model Post-Offices.

Washington, October 30.—Postmaster-General Burleson has decided to standardize the entire postal service, so far as possible, with a view to greater efficiency. To this end the department will operate a number of model offices, to be used as examples of the best practical way of administering the postal facilities, and to test out devices and methods which may prove of value.

To organize the field service for this work, the country has been divided into three great groups, the Atlantic States, the Middle West, and the Pacific Coast. It is proposed to send immediately a number of special experts from Washington to each of these divisions, where they will co-operate with post-office inspectors in a study of conditions at designated offices, with a view to reorganizing of the clerical forces on a greater efficiency basis, if found advisable.

The investigations will cover every phase of the service, including collection of mail, methods of handling in post-offices and on trains, and final delivery.

ASK FOR LOWER RATE

Flour Milling Concerns File Complaint Against Railroads.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—More than fifty flour-milling concerns, located in Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia, to-day filed complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission against rates exacted by the Southern and other railroads operating in Southeastern territory. Although the complaint was brought in the name of the States Draft Milling Company, of Staunton, Va., practically all other like concerns operating in the States mentioned were included.

The point in the complaint is that the railroads transporting complainants' products exact rates which are said to be unjust and unreasonable. The commission is asked to afford relief in the form of orders compelling these rates lowered.

CHANCE TO UPHOLD WILSON

Folk Urges New Jersey Voters to Elect Fielder Governor.
Woodbury, N. J., October 30.—Former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State, Charles J. Fielder, to-day declared that the election of Governor Fielder, the Democratic candidate for Governor, was necessary to the cause of national democracy and the support of the Wilson administration.

Authorities Alarmed

Reports in Vera Cruz That Battleships Are Dispatched to Mexico.
[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
San Francisco, October 30.—Newspaper headlines depicting Vera Cruz activities, surrounded by cannon, and the report that battleships were being dispatched by the United States, have alarmed the authorities.

MRS. WILSON GOES SHOPPING

Purchases Number of Standard Books for New Home of Daughter.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson visited a local book store yesterday afternoon and purchased a number of standard books, presumably for the new home of Miss Jessie Wilson, who was married to Francis B. Sargent of New York on Friday night. A set of Shakespeare in pocket size, bound in dull morocco, and a dark red leather binding of poetry and drama, were among the purchases. Mrs. Wilson spent some time in the store, and looked at many different editions of the desired books before she made her selections.

ON TRIAL FOR CONSPIRACY

Man Already Found Guilty Testifies Against Alleged Accomplices.
Seattle, Wash., October 30.—In the trial of the "Little Black Book" case, charged with conspiracy to defame the United States, John J. Ketterwell, former chief clerk in the Ketterwell office in Seattle, testified that after his arrest he had been supplied for a few days with food and clothing by the defendants. Ketterwell was convicted of conspiracy to defame some time ago and has served a term of jail.

CUSTOMS SERVICE REFORMS

Will Be Considered at Meeting of Collectors in New York.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, October 30.—Preparations for the annual meeting of customs collectors at New York during the week beginning November 3, for the purpose of discussing reforms in the customs service, were under way to-day. Every custom district in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico will be represented. It is expected that sixty-five officials will attend.

OLD FRIGATE BEACHED
The Santee Will Be Burned for Copper Pastenings Used in Construction.

Boston, Mass., October 30.—Stripped of all her fittings, the famous old frigate Santee was beached to-day on Governor's Island, where she will be burned for the copper pastenings used in her construction. The frigate recently was sold by the government to a junk dealer for $10,000. The Santee was a famous craft during Mississippi River campaigns in the Civil War and later was used successfully as a training, prison and station ship at Annapolis.

WILSON AT WORK ON PLAN TO SOLVE MEXICAN TROUBLE

Not Decided Whether Next Step Will Be by Words or Action.

STATEMENT SOON WILL BE ISSUED

Aims and Purposes of United States in Latin-American Affairs to Be Revealed—Future Communications May Be Addressed in Way to Recognize Rebels.

Washington, October 30.—President Wilson let it be known to-day that he was waiting for affairs to take definite shape in Mexico as a result of the election last Sunday, and that the United States government would not take any action in detail of what took place at the polls.

Recently the President, in a note to the Mexican Foreign Office, transmitted by Charles O'Shaughnessy, declared that the election of October 26 would not be considered constitutional by the United States. How long the United States will wait for the returns is not known.

It is believed several days, perhaps weeks, will elapse before the Huerta government, handicapped by difficulties of communication, will be able officially to record the results, though November 10 was the day set for counting the ballots.

Next Step Not Decided On.

No positive information as to this government's future course was divulged at the White House. The President informed those who discussed the situation with him that he had not decided whether the next step should be made known by words or action. He is at work on a plan from which he hopes to solve the troubles of Mexico. One of its features is a formal statement of the attitude of the United States, its stand against the influence of material interests in Latin-American affairs, its devotion to the cause of constitutional government on this hemisphere, and its readiness to support a fair and free election with safeguards and guarantees must be held in order to establish a legal authority in the Southern republic.

May Be Recognized as Factor.

Whether the statement of the government's policy will be addressed to John Lind or Charles O'Shaughnessy for presentation to the Huerta administration, or whether it has been suggested that future communications also may be addressed in some way to the Constitutionalists, thereby recognizing them as a factor in the problem of peace, is not known.

In Official circles there was no definite information current on the administration's plan.

Many conversant with the situation insisted that any new plan must have as its fundamental basis some method of eliminating Huerta before the Constitutionalists would even consent to talking peace or election. The attitude of the European powers was also a factor in the policy of the United States. Inquiry as to whether the foreign governments had assured the United States of their support in the event of a revolution, but at the present were not standing in the way of the American government.

Secretary Bryan, before departure to-day, responded to the latter statement.

In New Jersey, declined to comment upon the situation beyond saying that there had been no new developments.

Diaz to Be Put on Steamer.
In response to a letter from Rear-Admiral Fletcher, Acting Secretary of the Navy, issued instructions that General Felix Diaz and his party, including the battleship Louisiana at Vera Cruz, be put aboard a New York and Cuba mail steamer. The ship has not been selected. It is expected the transfer to the liner will take place after the latter steamer has progressed, at a date yet undetermined. Transfer of the fugitives will be made at sea to guard against their arrest by Huerta authorities.

Ready for Flight.

In view of Washington's previous representations on the subject, the next move of the American government is awaited here with no little misgivings. Many Americans already have packed their portable belongings, preparatory to flight, and are facing the necessity of leaving their household effects to fate. They express little hope of finding anything left upon their return. The inadequate storage facilities already are overtaxed, and most of those who contemplate flight expect to leave their homes in the care of Mexican caretakers as the only alternative.

What the new Mexican Congress will do with reference to the elections no